

NEWS FROM THE RWF MUSEUM

A schools newsletter from the Regimental Museum of the Royal Welch Fusiliers

The sessions include:

- Story telling
- A chance to dress up
- See and handle artefacts
- Take part in drill
- A chance to photograph and complete worksheets

Free workshops for schools

If you are studying the First World War or the Second World War, we can offer free sessions for up to 30 pupils in the Museum which is inside Caernarfon Castle.

How to book
Contact us on 01286 673362 or on Shirley@rwmuseum.wales

First World War Projects

- Do you need help with a project?
We can help you with work on the war memorial in your town or village.
- Do you want to be part of a much bigger project?
You can work in partnership with us to find every Fusiliers who was lost and bring the boys back home.
- Hedd Wyn was a Fusiliers. This summer it is 100 years since he was killed in Passchendaele.
Come hear about the life of a soldier. There were many famous poets in the Regiment—what about a session on War Poetry?
- Take advantage of this offer !
Contact us now.

©RWF Museum

BETSI CADWALADR and the CRIMEA
We are LOOKING for 2 schools to trial a new workshop on the Crimea, the Betsi Cadawladr and Florence Nightingale story. This with a Crimea soldier and nurse to tell the story. Get in touch for more information and to book your place.

Free art sessions

We are offering sessions to create a medal, create a badge, artefact drawing etc. Get in touch for information.

